CHIMES

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF PFEIFFER COLLEGE AT
MISENHEIMER, NORTH CAROLINA

Nancy Miller—Editor-in-Chief

Gordon Scott—Business Manager

Dedication

In appreciation for all that he has done for the students and for the college, we proudly dedicate this edition of the Chimes to Dr. Hoyt E. Bowen.

We, the students, think of Dr. Bowen especially because of one of his best qualities: his ability to establish a rapport with his students. His love of the theatre sparkles in his classroom lectures, and drama and other literary forms come to life through his depiction. Students in his English courses always carry away part of his love for literature and fond memories of his particular devotion to the ballad and to Shakespeare.

Dr. Bowen came to Pfeiffer College in 1956 as Head of the Division of Language and Literature. His background in education includes study at Piedmont College, Columbia University, and Florida State University where he received his doctorate. While he was a student, he appeared in several dramatic productions, among them the Twentieth Century Fox production of I'd Climb the Highest Mountain. He is a member of Sigma Tau Delta, Delta Psi Omega, Phi Kappa Delta, MLA, and AAUP. Prior to 1946 Dr. Bowen served as a Lieutenant Commander in the United States Navy, and saw service in the South Pacific and in the Philippines. He was retired as a Naval pilot in 1946 because of injuries received in a mid-air collision. Married to the former Katherine McMonus of Jacksonville, Florida, Dr. Bowen, his wife, and their son, Edwin, live on the campus.

Dr. Bowen talks with a student after class.

DR. HOYT E. BOWEN

Quiet...

A warm sunrise lingering over dew-spread trees, brightening white columns, and reflecting off the raafs of the campus gives a lonely and almost empty look in the early hours of the day. The spire of the Chapel, stretching toward the sky, dominates the landscape for miles around. The white columns, the arches between dormitories, curving iron steps, worn walkways and dirt paths, scarred and clean bricks, raads winding through the campus and aver a small bridge, faculty homes, athletic facilities are part of the atmosphere of our campus. During the peaceful periads of the day or night there are usually a few students to be seen or quiet voices to be heard. The peaceful day is accented by the reverent melody of chimes as the sun nears the harizon. At night there are the reflections of lights. Occasionally there's a shadow to break the spot-lighted quiet as figures move across a walk.

God's seasons lend a helping hand in changing the campus scene. Winter winds make icy spectacles, but the quiet continues as a solitary student makes tracks in the snow. Spring shade and a warm breeze call the student out of his room to study under trees. While he studies he can probably hear the quiet thumping of a tennis ball as it bounces across a net on part of the Pfeiffer campus.

Students sit on the campus in front of Rowe.

As the sun sets in the west, two lone students, another day behind them, make the final evening trip to the post office. Maybe this time there will be a letter from her.

The cafeteria staff is up late once more . . . Must have scorched the water again.

Spring comes to Pfeiffer and the campus is a picture of beauty once again. The leaves are green, the breeze is cooling, and everything is peaceful. It's a refreshing sight in the midst of all the study.

One rises early to make the first prints in the snow in front of Rowe.

A peaceful hour in a busy day across the tracks is revealed to highway passersby.

An appealing sight across campus is this one after a fresh snow has covered the lawn, shrubs, and trees.

... you should hang your head; it doesn't take that long to say good-by to her.

Late at night the campus becomes surprisingly quiet at times and the lamp and porch lights shine on empty walks and drives.

Intellectual...

Studying, participating in discussion, inquiring, listening to a lecture are ways of gaining wisdom at Pfeiffer. Students lean over books in the library while someone thumbs through a daily paper and another searches frantically in the periodical files. In the dormitories a student flaps on his bed with his books as the accented beat of a stereo comes from the adjacent room. In the Rec, where quiet is an unknown word and solitude is a last hope, a student with his chin in his hands forces himself to concentrate. Occasionally among the crowd in the gym is a student who reads frantically between the highlights of a public event. On front campus students sprawl beneath oaks, alternately watching passersby and studying. Warm afternoons find couples sitting on steps of the post office or of a dormitory working math problems while students laden with books trail past. In the dormitory parlor two students study for endless hours. A student panel is born to discuss world problems and affairs while their classmates ask questions and listen to their answers. The lights burn late in a science lab as a single student plods through routine experiments of discovering. These and others are the ways students grow into maturity and graduate into another life. But that's another story.

It is in Trustee meetings like this where the future of Pfeiffer is decided.

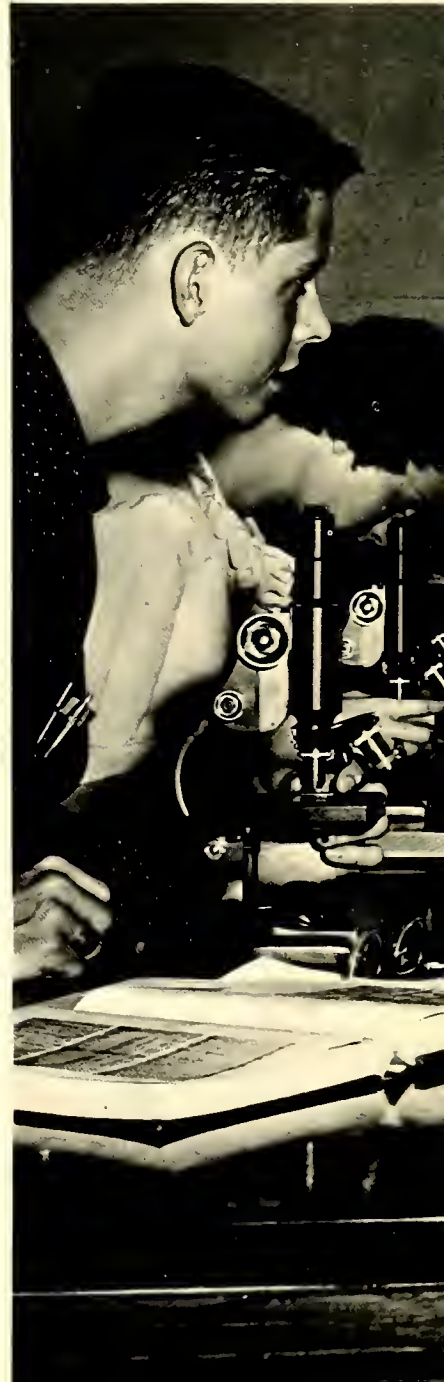

A few students remain among the vacant chairs to check over their examinations.

Dr. Kirtley Mather and Dr. Russell discuss religion and science.

You say you see o WHAT in your microscope?

Wonder if the lab assistant is listening in?

A lone student casts a shadow as he studies under a campus oak.

Facial expressions show that the research papers are due very soon.

English 101 themes—will there ever be an end to them?

Some students seem to like the fabric display; others simply look on.

Betsy points out the quality of a pointing. George is interested, but Russell doesn't seem to like it very much.

Dr. Stephenson's face shows a look of pride as a student amazingly scores nine on the Physic Department's strength tester.

Active...

College life is filled with sounds of many activities. At various times in various places, the yell of "yea team" and the roar of crowd cheers at athletic events vibrate the air in the gym or on the field. There's the melodic sound of a hymn rising from the students worshipping and a minister's voice lifted in adoration. The applause of pleased viewers at a campus play comes from the auditorium. The blaring rhythm of the juke box, shuffling feet, endlessly chattering students, rattle of ice in coke cups, the exclamation of one with burned fingers from the drippings of a too-full cup of coffee — the sounds spill over into the hall outside the Rec. Off in a dormitory a group discussing the solution to the world's problems or their next date, a live band in the gym, a TV soap opera in the parlor, a piano, a lecture, a sermon, typewriters, birds chirping outside the dormitory window, the lady in the post office announcing the last mail of the day, an instructor saying hawdy to a student — you know them because you've been around the campus. It's fun, joy, and laughter. It's college — the life of a new idea or an old one.

"Hey, girls, get o mon!" is a camman saying around campus just before the Sadie Hawkins Dance. Pat Griffin, where did you get that pipe?

Friendship Week, needless to say, is a rather popular event on our campus. The Student Government sponsored event allows students to visit in one another's dormitories.

The music of a newly formed Pfeiffer trio supplies the rhythm at a dance. The beard which appeared during the first semester goes well here with some of the old ballads being sung.

The President's Reception is a time for students to get together and meet new friends. And, incidentally, punch and cake always add to the attractiveness.

The Student Government soys "Let's Twist Again," and a sac-hap affords on excellent appor-tunity.

Soft lights, sweet music, Horvest Ball: this makes for a welcome change in the daily routine. The band plays "This Can Go On Forever," but you know farever will be over at twelve.

"... I can assure you the three percent tax goes to the state, not the Business Office."

Tom Watkins looks on as Joe Johnson and the bridge majors do their homework.

History Of Pfeiffer College

By Mary F. Floyd

Dec. 7, 1961

To trace the history of a liberal arts college through its development from an elementary school to a high school to a junior college and finally to a senior college is a thrilling assignment. One could hardly say that this is a unique type of history, but certainly it does not conform to the usual pattern.

It was in 1885 that Miss Emily Prudden, the daughter of a Congregational minister from Connecticut, erected a two-story, eleven-room house on the side of Lick Mountain, six miles from Lenoir and four miles from Hudson, North Carolina. She had previously visited this section and had become disturbed because so many young people in the remote mountain areas did not have adequate educational opportunities. This institution for mountain children was given the name "Oberlin Home and School."

By 1930, Miss Prudden saw that the operation of the school had outgrown her strength, and she kindly offered the school as a gift to the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the former Methodist Episcopal Church. The conversations between the church and Miss Prudden culminated in the property being transferred to the women of the church, and since 1903, Pfeiffer College has been connected with an agency of The Methodist Church.

By 1909, the women of the church saw that the school had outgrown its usefulness in that geographical area, and it was moved in the spring of 1910 to Misenheimer, North Carolina. By the time of its removal, it had advanced to secondary school status and remained a secondary school until 1928, when the trustees authorized that college work be begun. Junior college status was declared officially in January, 1932, but it was not until 1942 that the junior college was accredited by the Southern Association. In 1954, the Board voted to undertake a senior college program, and the institution moved rapidly in this direction. The first senior class was graduated in 1957, and accreditation by the Southern Association came in 1959.

As one examines the history of this college, he is led to say that it is the lengthened shadows of a number of people. Dare names be called? Miss Emily Prudden, the founder . . . Mrs. Mary Mitchell, an early benefactress . . . Mr. W. S. Sharpe, the first bearing the title president . . . Mr. Chi M. Waggoner, the second president . . . Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pfeiffer, whose large gifts saved the college in the early thirties and whose continuing gifts guaranteed the on-going of the academic program . . . Mrs. W. H. C. Goode, whose leadership of the Board of Trustees helped fashion school policies over a period of many years. As with Paul, these words come forth:

"And what more shall I say? For Time would fail me to tell of . . . all . . . who through faith conquered . . ."

July 1, 1953, and a new era began with the arrival of Dr. J. Lem Stokes, President. The expansion of the college since this memorable date may be called his dream child, and the implementation of the dream is constantly being realized not only through efforts of the dreamer but also through the devoted service of faithful colleagues over a period of years, by gifts from the Gustavus and Louise Pfeiffer Research Foundation, the Woman's Society of Christian Service, and other interested friends.

To appreciate Pfeiffer College is to visit its expanding plant, to see its varied facilities, to know its versatile faculty, to converse with its eager and alert student body, to study its sound academic offerings, and to hear of the support given to it by friends and agencies too numerous to list.

There has to be in the whole life of an institution a particular formula for success. Key words culled from reports from 1885 to the present day are "faith," "sacrifice," "vision," "work," "prayer." At the beginning of the organized expansion under President Stokes, a prayer candle was lighted, and the college community sought God's guidance. Periodically this candle is brought forth to light the way when we are baffled and to express appreciation for the blessings of God. At this moment Pfeiffer College is grateful that it has been led of God, and it commits itself afresh to a system of higher education where there is no divorce between religion and education. Pfeiffer College is devoted to a program which is academically sound and Christian without apology.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

Homer Brawley

President of the Student Government Association

The Student Government Association is an integral part of all campus activities. All Pfeiffer students are members of this organization and each is able to voice his opinion in the elections held each spring.

The purpose of the Student Government is to regulate all matters pertaining to the conduct of the students of the college which are not reserved to the jurisdiction of the deans and in co-operation with the staff and faculty to promote the best interests of the individual student and the college.

The Student Council is the governing body of the Student Government Association. It is comprised of the officers, two representatives from each class, and the presidents from the Men's and Women's Student Government Associations. Through the action which this body takes, it attempts to co-ordinate the other governmental organizations and endeavors to promote understanding between the student body and the administration.

Another important part of the Student Government Association is the Judicial Committee which is composed of Student Council members. It is set up to act on the violations of college rules and regulations which are not designated to the MSGA or the WSGA.

The Student Government Association endeavors throughout the year to sponsor many recreational activities. Among them are various dances, Coaches Appreciation Day, and Friendship Week which is highlighted by such events as open-house in the dorms, a soc-hop, and a faculty talent show. One of the major events of the year is the George Washington Ball which is also sponsored by the Student Government Association.

Long, Thompson, Jones, Dean Bethea, Boyte, Stane, Fesperman, Griffin, Johnston, Beodles, Jarrett.

Linda Jones, President

W. S. G. A.

The Women's Student Government Association is an essential part of the student government and serves as a link between the women students and the administration. Composed of all women students, its main purpose is to represent them and further their interests.

During the past year, the W. S. G. A. has purchased two new television sets for girls' dormitories and installed full-length mirrors where they are needed. They are sponsoring along with the M. S. G. A. the project of putting up directional signs on campus to aid visitors. They have also studied the possibility of getting a new type of class ring for women students.

M. S. G. A.

The Men's Student Government Association proposes to create a strength of unity among the men students on the campus. The M.S.G.A. has co-operation of the deans, faculty, and staff in promoting the interests of the individual. This organization regulates the conduct of the students under the authority of the college, and promotes responsibility and a high sense of honor.

The Men's Student Government Council is composed of the officers of the MSGA, presidents of the men's dormitories, and representatives from the men's day students.

The Women Day Student Organization exists as a part of the Student Government Organization. Each year the Women Day Students have several projects. Among them are adding pieces of furniture and drapes to the lounge, painting the lounge, and holding an annual open house.

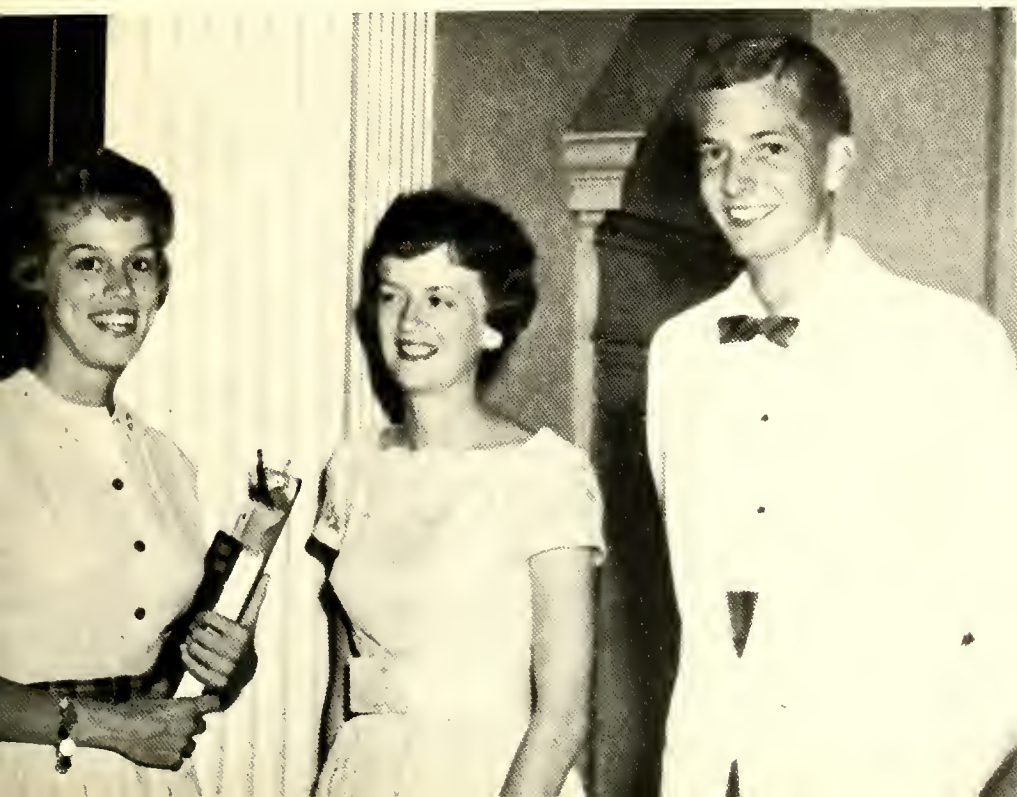

Each Woman Day Student is a member of this organization and is welcome to spend her leisure time on campus in the Day Student Lounge.

MISS MERRY CHRISTMAS

Dr. West congratulates Mr. Kenneth B. Hobbs from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Dr. Kertley F. Mather, a Danforth visiting lecturer, talks to the Science Club.

CONVOCATION SERIES

Once a month a well-known person with an interesting occupation visits the campus. He speaks to the entire student body in the morning. Then in the afternoon and evening he lectures to campus organizations and holds small informative discussion groups.

Faculty and administration members talk with Mr. Paul Rathman from the United States Information Agency.

Dr. Garfield David Merner and Mrs. Blanche Merner James are awarded honorary Doctor of Humanity degrees at a special Pfeiffer Family convocation.

Dr. Murat H. Roberts and Dr. George E. Brewer discuss their participation in the 1961 Fine Arts Festival. They discussed the art of E. T. A. Haffmann and Jacques Offenbach.

Fine Arts

Ben Owen, Master Potter, of Seagrave, North Carolina, demonstrates his craft during the 1961 Fine Arts Festival.

Judy McManus and Al Spivey are among the students visiting the art display during the festival.

The Fine Arts Festival is a week of cultural events which highlight the school year at Pfeiffer. During this week different artists from various fields take part in a series of lectures and exhibits. First-hand exposure to music, drama, literature, talented speakers, and the visual arts offers the student the opportunity to broaden his knowledge of the arts.

Puzzled Robin Clark discusses a letter to the editor with senior Blair Beasley.

The Pfeiffer News office can and often does become rather active on Monday night, deadline day. Between ringing phones and curious visitors somehow a paper gets published. But these were memorable days for the news staff. Remember the twisting issue, the Pfeiffer-Merner convocation, April Fool's Day, Stan Thompson and fallout shelters, Dave Brubeck. Every issue had its drawing card for campus comment; each one had its memory for those who worked on the stories.

The college newspaper is published weekly throughout the academic year. With a staff chosen on the basis of journalistic ability, the paper strives to represent the various points of view of the students and to give fair and adequate news coverage to all campus organizations and events. The right to reject part or all of any material submitted to the News for publication is the privilege of the staff. However, publishing a paper is so much more than this; and making a paper "live" and function became the primary goal of the staff this year.

In addition to publishing a well-written, well-read paper, the Pfeiffer News played host to the Carolina Collegiate Press Association convention in December and sponsored a number of discussion groups.

RADIO STATION WSPC

Radio station WSPC went on the air officially September 14, 1961. It is registered by the Federal Communications Commission with an authorization to operate on a frequency of 580 kilocycles using carrier current transmission.

The station has two main objectives.

They are to provide a medium of information and entertainment to the students of Pfeiffer and to offer professional-level training and experience in broadcasting techniques to interested students.

During the academic year the station operates on a daily schedule.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Le Cercle Francais is organized to promote an interest in the French-speaking peoples and in the culture and customs of France. This is done through programs, skits, and games which are based on French customs. French is sometimes spoken during meetings in order to help the members to gain a greater proficiency in the language. The club under the sponsorship of Miss Elizabeth Shoffer presents a special French Easter program.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION FELLOWSHIP

The Christian Education Fellowship is an organization composed of students interested in the field of Christian Education. Its purpose is to promote worship, study, and fellowship among the students who are thinking of careers in the Christian Education programs of the local church. The programs are of a varied nature and are designed to help the members in their work. In joint sponsorship with the Kappa Chi, the club held a Christmas party to which the members brought gifts for needy children. They also held a yearly folk-dance festival. In the spring a special program for the dedication of field-workers provided inspiration for all the members. All the programs are planned to supplement classroom knowledge with practical activities.

SOCIETY OF CREATIVE ARTS

The Society of Creative Arts, which was established in 1957, is composed of students interested in creative writing and art. The organization gives its members an opportunity to have their works read and evaluated by members of the faculty and student body.

At the monthly meeting, under the supervision of Dr. Nancy D. McLourin, the group meets to discuss their respective creative works.

FELLOWSHIP TEAM

Dr. J. Lem Stokes, II, President of Pfeiffer College: "Pfeiffer Fellowship Teams come into being as a result of the desire of students to make themselves available for service to the local church. We have been proud of the young men and women who have been involved in this program, and I am pleased to report that an increasing number of calls are coming from nearby churches for directed week-end religious activities. This interchange of college and local church youth should result in a revival of interest in, and renewed dedication to, the building of God's Kingdom in our day."

KAPPA CHI

Kappa Chi is a preministerial fraternity. Its members plan to enter the Christian Ministry, and in their meetings topics pertaining to the ministry are discussed. These meetings provide opportunities for discussion of the various problems one meets in his role as a minister.

Coch Lefko stands beside senior-captains, Tom Hudgins and Sid Jones. Bruce Hayes the other captain was absent when the photograph was made.

The Pfeiffer soccer team had its best season in history under the coaching of N. E. Lefko as it posted an impressive record of 9 wins, 1 tie, and only 1 loss. Sid Jones, a senior from Woodstown, New Jersey, played an important part as goalie; the Falcons posted three shut-outs and three other victories in which only one goal was scored against them. The leading scorer for the Falcons was George Pfeffer who had 14 goals. Next leading scorer was Darrell Ayers with 8. The team scored 34 goals compared with only 16 for its opponents during season play.

These Falcons led by Ken Hildreth cheer for one of the 34 goals that the team scored during the 1961 season.

All we see is a blurr of action as junior Deon Lamant soars into the air in an attempt to score a goal against Davidson. Pfeiffer won the game, 3-2.

Charles Chon and Dean Lomont try to overtake an Emory University back on the Pfeiffer College field. The Falcons beat Emory 2-1, for their sixth consecutive win.

These Falcons have a right to be happy as they posed for this picture after trimming Emory in a hard fought game.

Goalie, Sid Jones, prepares to make one of his numerous saves. Only sixteen goals were scored against Pfeiffer during the year as the Falcons held such teams as Belmont Abbey, Randolph-Mason, and South Carolina scoreless.

An unidentified Falcan wrestles to get the ball in the final game of the season against the Davidson Wildcats. The Falcons closed the season with their ninth win. This is an all-time record for a Pfeiffer team.

CHEERLEADERS

The 1961-62 cheerleaders are Doris Goodwin from Winston Salem, Diane Hill from Pennsauken, N. J., Sylvia Boyte, head cheerleader from Aberdeen, Daphne Fair from Leaksville, Eileen Dix from Bridgeton, N. J., Myrna Hendron from Cleveland, Mary Jo Moore from Forest City, and Dorlene Percy from Fort Bragg.

These girls cheer for the soccer and basketball teams. They are a vital part of the school spirit, which they help maintain through pep rallies.

BASKETBALL

Bab Frank, all-conference athlete from Greensboro, N. C., shoots for two points against Appalachian State. Frank, during the month of January, was the second leading scorer in the conference and was top rebounder. His rebounding ability was well enough to place him fifth in NAIA statistics. Frank tied a Pfeiffer College record with 35-points against Campbell College, and broke the school record with an amazing 45-point total against the College of Charleston later in the season.

Co-captains, Bob Frank and Henry Johnson, have continuously led the Falcon attack against all apposition.

The Falcon basketball team had its best season in several years under Coach Francis Essic. Essic, in his second year as coach, relied heavily on Bob Frank. Frank, the team's high point man, was the main spark in the Falcon lineup. The team loses co-captains Bob Frank and Henry Johnson along with Hal Stealey. But with the excellent reserve strength to be found in the underclassmen, the student body can look forward to another good year in 1962-1963.

PFEIFFER 72 BELMONT ABBEY 50

The Falcons played one of its most impressive games in history on January 13, 1962, when they posted a major upset of small colleges with a 72-50 double overtime victory against the Crusaders of Belmont Abbey.

The two teams were deadlocked at 48-all at the end of regulation time. During the first overtime period neither team scored, but as the second period began, Bob Frank hit a field goal and from then on it was all Pfeiffer as the Falcons ran off to whack one of the top-ranked small college powers in the East. Thirty seconds later, Frank hit on two free throws and it was not long before the Falcons had a six-point advantage as Frank hit again on a pair of free throws.

Harold McManus canned two free throws and that virtually sewed up the victory for Pfeiffer. But the Falcons would not quit. They increased their lead to 61-48 before the Crusaders finally scored. Belmont Abbey pressed the rest of the way trying to regain possession of the basketball and the Falcons used their fast break to perfection to grind out the final 22-point margin.

Frank hit on six field goals and 13 of 18 free throws for 25 points, Lentz canned 16 points and McManus 13 for a share of the scoring honors for Pfeiffer. Hats off to Coach Essic and the Falcons on their conquering of the Crusaders.

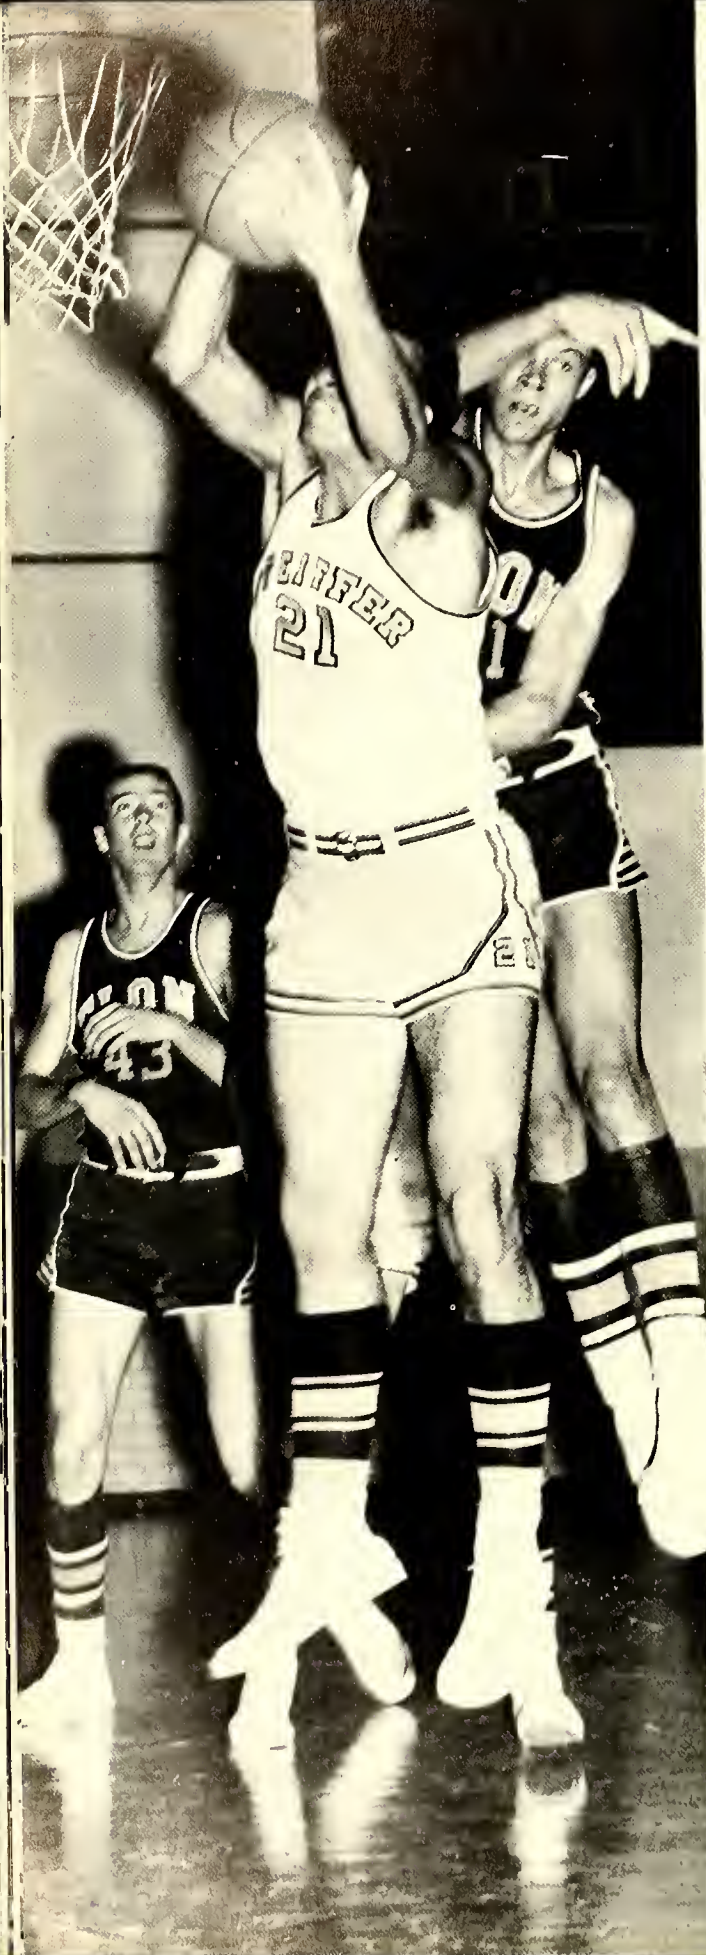

Harold McManus drives in for a lay-up in game against the Fighting Christians of Elon College. Pfeiffer lost the game, 78-73, but showed signs of being a tough contender for other clubs during the remainder of the season.

The Falcons practice just before start of second half in the game against Atlantic Christian. Pfeiffer won the game, 88-59, behind the scoring of Bob Frank's with 25 points, Harold McManus' 19, and Larry Lentz's 17.

Sophomore Ted Blake pulls in rebound against the Christian's. The Falcons have a young team and will improve as it becomes more experienced.

Coach Francis Essic gives half-time pep talk to club during the game with Campbell College. The Falcons held a slim 24-23 lead at the time, but came back very strong to defeat Campbell, 72-62.

Bob Frank 'dunks' two points in a game against Elan.

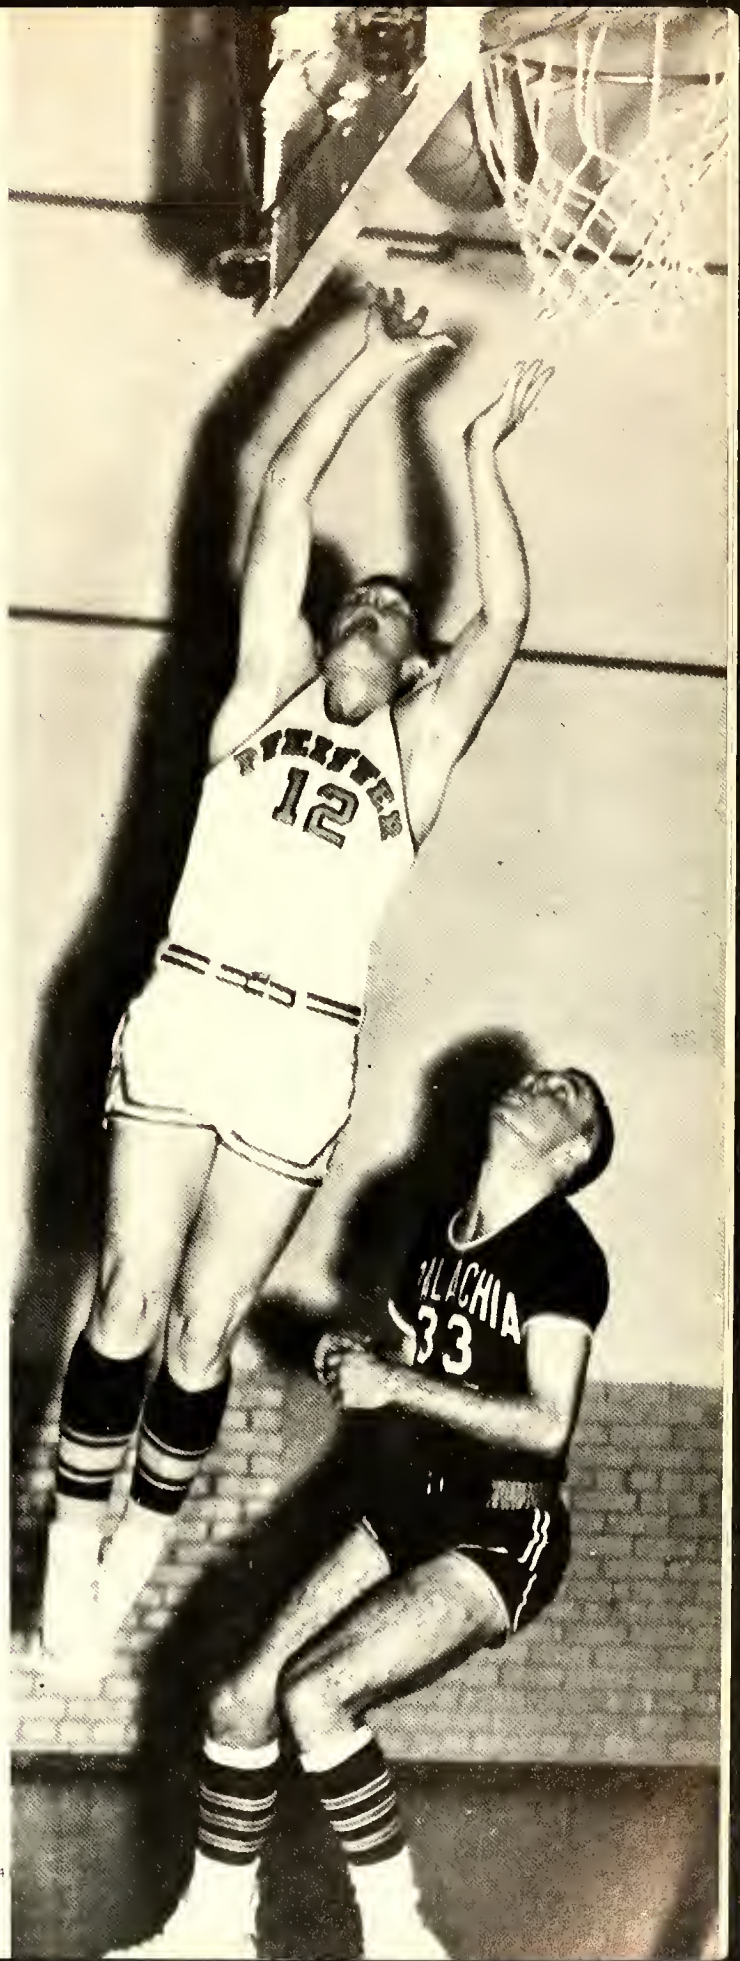

Harold McManus hits for two in game against Appalachian State.

feiffer, led by Frank's 35 points, went ahead by 5 points at one time before Coach Essic sent in his reserves.

Vince Hoch shows form that belted two home runs and accounted for his batting average of .326. Hoch was one of the leading catchers of the North State Conference as he allowed only one base stolen off him during the entire season of 26 games.

Junior, Dick Pine, combined his duties both at first base and as a pitcher. He was the winning pitcher in the Falcons game against NAIA champions, East Carolina. Pine batted a phenomenal .365 during the season.

Jordan was a great defensive player for the Falcons at his keystone position. He also proved to be good with the stick as he posted a .305 batting average.

These Falcons hit for an average of .303 during the 1961 baseball season. They are Gruber, Hadden, Ewing, Pfeffer, Eaton, Lingerfelt, and Russell.

Coach Ferebee led his team to an 18-8 record and to second place in the Falcons first year as a member of the Old North State Conference. They beat every team in the conference at least once. Since Ferebee arrived at Coch Ferebee tells team how to detect opposing pitchers' weakness and how to hide the ball before they deliver.

Sophomore, Randy Ewing, provided the punch that the Falcons needed in right field last season. Ewing batted .309 during his rookie year with Pfeiffer.

Pfeiffer in 1956, his aspirants have provided him with an overall record of 85 wins compared with only 24 losses or a very respectable .780 percentage.

Baseball fans always love to jaw with the umpire during the course of a season. Here is a crowd pleaser, but don't let the picture fool you. Coach Ferebee believes in true sportsmanship, and his teams have not only brought forth a winning season every year under his command, but have also displayed the best sportsmanship to be found in the conference.

Ronald Rayle shows returning Falcan pitchers how he threw his curve ball in pasting a 5-1 record during the season. His victories included two shutouts. Players watching are Pine, 2-1; Stealey, 4-1.

Bob Ellis was a utility man for the Falcons and filled in numerous times when Coach Ferebee shifted his batting order due to injured players and while looking for the right punch needed to beat the opposition.

FENCING

Coach Jackson says . . . "Fencing was organized on the Pfeiffer campus during the fall of 1960, and has continued since then on an informal, club basis. Membership is open to any who are interested in the sport.

Although lacking in experience and equipment, the Talons have met a number of other teams in the area on a non-varsity basis. This year they have fenced against teams from Citadel, V.M.I., Clemson, and Winston Salem. Repeat matches are planned with each of these as well as with Augusta Military Academy and the University of North Carolina. Plans are also being made to send representatives to the South-Eastern Invitational Tournament this spring."

Here we find Jackson looking on as he teaches his Talons the fundamentals of fencing. The two participants are Mason and Stambaugh.

Cooch Mortin says . . . "Wrestling ranks as one of the oldest sports in the world and ancient Greek legends tell of wrestling exploit of Ajax, Ulysses and other heroes. At Pfeiffer College wrestling holds a similar position with respect to antiquity, having been inaugurated with the four year program at Pfeiffer, some seven years ago. As yet however, none of our exploits have become legendary, but none the less we have a team of which we can be proud. Wrestlers must be strong, agile, and in perfect condition. Almost every muscle in their bodies is called upon in a match. This makes wrestling one of the most healthful sports, but it also demands skill and intelligence in the application of balance and agility. A small, clever wrestler may often pin a much heavier, stronger opponent; however, in our collegiate competition we wrestle in eight weight classes which are designated by the conference in which the team is affiliated. Our wrestling program is not to be confused with the exhibition that is held in padded boxing rings, that allows kicking, punching, biting, gouging, and other 'crowd-pleasing' tactics."

George Woodward has control of challenger from Washington and Lee.

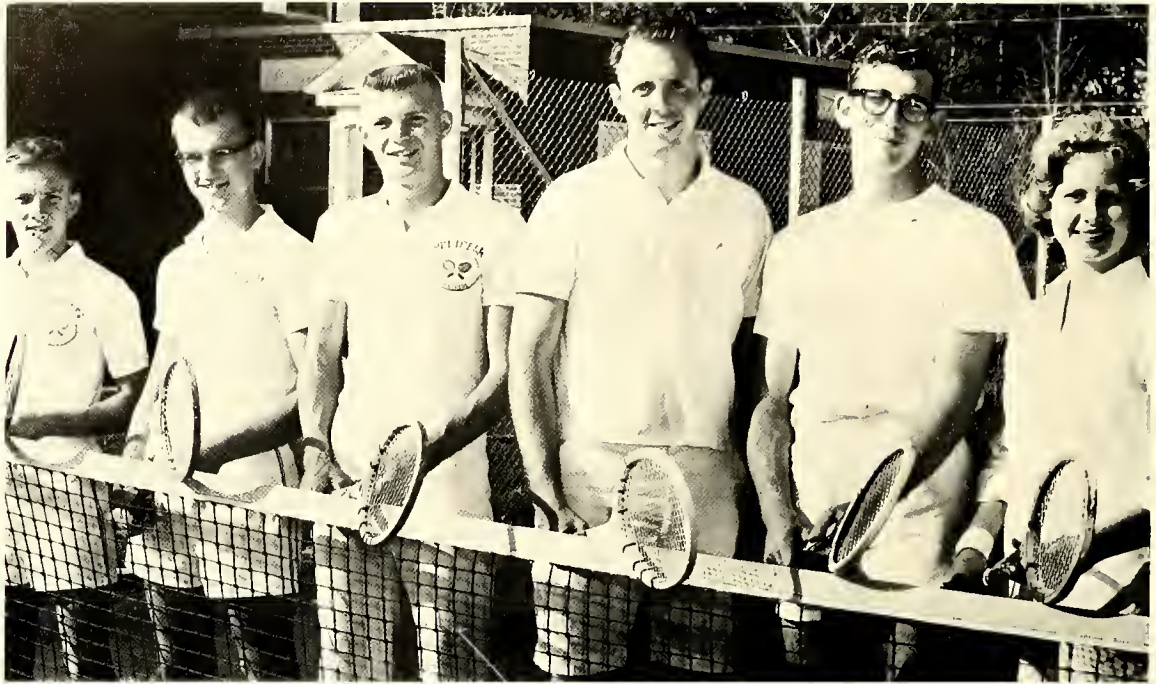

Bill West an outstanding performer from Arlington, Va., tries for a bar against a Washington and Lee General.

Captain Asher stands between co-opts Lorry Crumbley and Boyd Stokes. These men were the only lettermen to return to Coach Mortin's mot team for the 1962 season.

Lorry Crumbley moves for take down against Swain from Appolachian.

TENNIS

Coach Wallace Martin

Coach Martin says . . . "In 1961, Pfeiffer witnessed the most active tennis program in its history. There were more persons participating, more and better publicity programs and more organized matches. For much of this expanded program the players themselves can take credit. A large number of interested students offer themselves as candidates for the team. There are many more students who would benefit immeasurably both in body and in spirit by a program of wholesome exercise and refreshing relaxation in becoming acquainted with the game. Tennis is both a team and an individual sport requiring long hours of practice and discipline in order to improve your game."

Barry Magee has proven to be one of the best players in the conference.

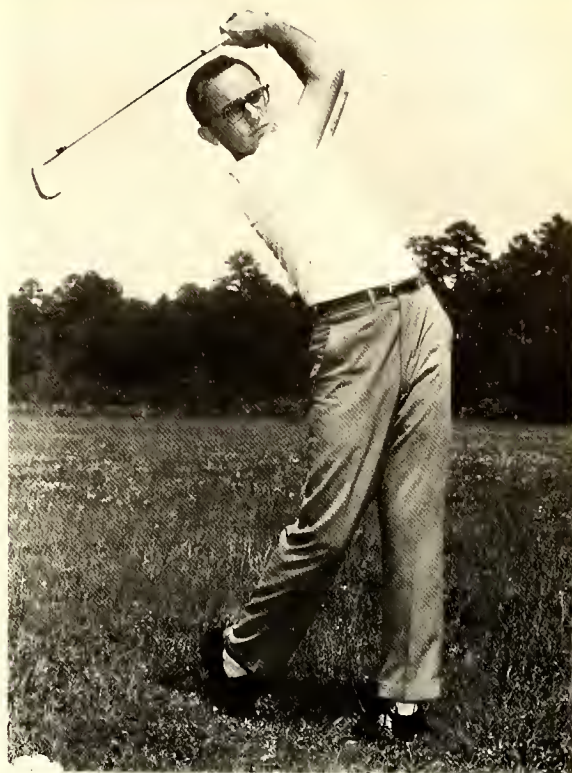

The Falcan galf team, under Caach Essic, pasted a recard af nine wins against seven lasses last season. This was the fourth season that galf has been played at Pfeiffer as a competitive spart, and the Falcans have pasted a winning season every year. Last year's team was compased af Skam-sky, Lisk, Richards, and O'Hea. Lisk and Richards are the only men returning to the regular line-up. Caach Essic laaks forward to building a respectable team around these return-ees and newcomers Bob Rogers, Yates Neagle, and Earl Smith.

The Falcan galf team plays every team in the conference during the season and this year they will participate in the conference tournament in Baane during the manth af May.

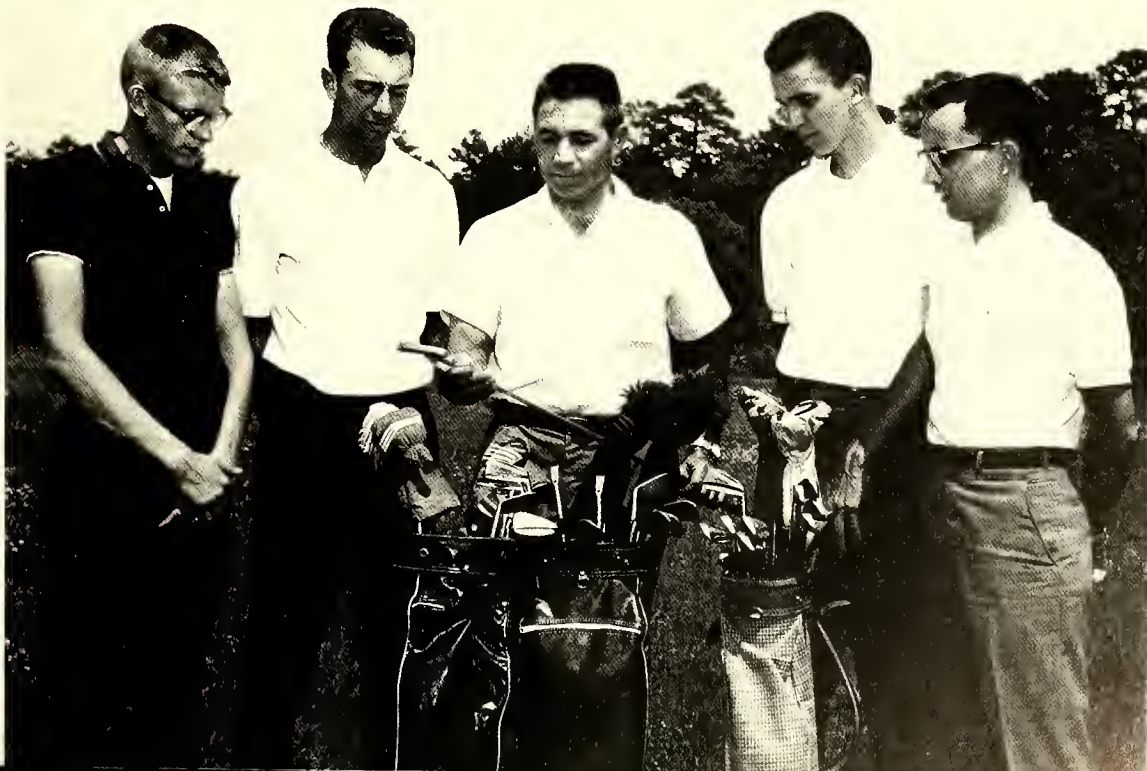

Junior Bill Richards prepares to drive ball down fairway. Richards was a starter an last year's team.

Bobby Lisk, senior from Badin, N. C., practices shots which proved to be helpful as Bob proved to be a very consistent golfer last season.

GOLF

Bill Richards, George Skomsky, Pat O'Hea, ond Bob Lisk discuss various types of clubs with Coach Francis Essic.

Buddy Way tasses ball up to open the boys intramural basketball season.

INTRAMURALS

The intramural program has grown to be a very popular form of activity for the students at Pfeiffer. This recreational program is offered to those who do not participate in the intercollegiate program.

The women that take part in the intramurals have a chance to earn a black sweater with a gold "P". All they have to do is acquire the required number of points that is set up under the rules of the Women's Athletic Association.

The men find the intramural program an ideal means of spending their free time. Their teams are composed of groups found in the different dormitories. The champions of each sport are awarded trophies for their outstanding performances.

At long last we have arrived—the 1962 graduating seniors. We as individuals all have memories of college days which will linger with us like the warm afterglow of a dusky summer twilight. We will receive our diplomas and move out to take our places in the world. The place we leave vacant will be filled by another class. We'll remember each path to each class. We'll keep in touch with our friends, and we will have memories that will remain alive and glowing throughout the coming years.

Class Officers: Ray Taylor, President; Ed Ballard, Treasurer; Brenda Webb, Secretary; Harold McFeely, Vice-President.

As we stand on the threshold of that final year, we leave behind our frivolous ways. We settle down, feel sorry for the freshmen and secretly want to be with them again. We're elected to more important offices, we get more recognition, we form views on major issues, we discuss the latest fads, and we start work in earnest on our majors. Our sophomore ways have left us, the sophistication of seniors has not come to us: we are juniors.

Sophomores know all about the campus, the professors, the path to the lake, where to go and what to do, all the latest gossip, the short cut to the Post Office for a letter, the best places to sun bathe, and the way to break rules. We're on the second step of the ladder leading to our dream. Now there are only two years left.

We were scored ond green, excited ond homesick, but before long we met new friends, old friends, cute boys, ond cute girls. Orientotion was a mass confusion of tests, dances, teas, unpocking in cubby holes, meeting roommotes ond trying to settle down. Then in full force came advisors, schedules, registration lines ond money lines. Next came our first closses, professors, book lists, book lines ond grooning pocketbooks. This was the beginning of the reolizotion of o dream. Next year we'll be sophomores.
